NATIONALISTS CELEBRATE IN WILD FASHION

Uniformed Party Followers March by Thousands; Honor Hindenburg, Too.

COMMON CAUSE CITED

BERLIN, Jan. 30. (AP)—Adolf Hitler achieved his long-sought goal—the chancellorship of the Reich—today, and Nationalists celebrated in the streets of the city of the union of President Hindenburg and the Nazi leader in a common effort to pull the rather head out of the mire.

Hitler, having at last attained the coveted goal, must now show whether the Messianic hopes of the Nationalists in the chancellorship are justified.

The efforts of the Hitlerites, as well as of the Nationalist followers of Dr. Alfred Hugenberg, at last triumphed in bringing the three great movements of the right—the Nazis, the Nationalists and the Hugenbergists—together.

They met for a common purpose after many up and down since they met for a common effort at Harburg in October, 1931.

OTHER NAZIS APPOINTED. Field Marshal von Hindenburg placed the highest political office of the Reich in the hands of the former Austrian corporal and the son of a peasant farmer.

$1,959,000 BOND SALE UP FEB. 10

City Must Retire $1,200,000 Issue on Old Sewage Disposal Plant.

Facing the necessity of retiring $1,200,000 in bonds on the old sewage disposal plant, issued 30 years ago, trustees of the city sinking fund yesterday afternoon decided to issue new bonds.

The trustees decided to open bids on the bonds on Feb. 10 and to receive proposals on Feb. 11.

The commission must have the money to retire the sewage plant bonds by Mar. 1. Col. William H. Duff, secretary of the commission, announced.

GET'S MAXIMUM EARNING. In compliance with law, the trustees of the sinking fund will receive all surplus funds coming into their possession, and are authorized to sell the bonds owned by them to provide the money to meet payments of the bonds maturing.

By keeping these funds invested in government securities, following the trustee's meeting, the sinking fund will receive the maximum amount.

RESERVE IS CITED. The Columbus sinking fund is in excellent condition and the credit of the city rated among the highest.

The bill requirements have been met, and as a consequence a reserve fund has been built up ample to take care of long-term obligations for years to come.

Measure in Legislature Would Give Freer Hand in Liquidation.

384 NOW IN HOPPER

Broader powers in the liquidation of unbound building and loan associations would be given to the state superintendent of building and loans under an administration bill introduced in the Legislature last night.

Written at the direction of Theodore Trogman, state director of commerce, the bill was introduced by Representative E. C. Eshenberry (D.), of Preble County.

In order to speed the bill on its way, the House of Representatives suspended its rules and sent the bill immediately to the building and loan committee. The measure is designed as an emergency act and, if adopted with the emergency clause, would become effective immediately upon being signed by the governor.

The bill would eliminate the present requirement that, in the case of an unbound building and loan association, the superintendent ask the attorney general to institute proceedings for its liquidation.

STEPS ARE OUTLINED. It would substitute the provision that if the association is "conducting its business in whole or in part contrary to law," or if it is "not a corporation chartered for the best interests of the community," the shareholders and creditors of the association may, with the written approval of the director of commerce, Mar. 1. Col. William H. Duff, secretary of the commission, announced.

The bill proposes a machinery for the liquidation of building and loan associations, for the receiving and distribution of assets, and for the court to file the common plan of liquidation.

Methods for appraisal of assets of an association are set up. Specific stipulations are made for liquidating and for publicity to the amounts being spent. Among other requirements proposed is one under which the superintendent would be required to file an expense statement every three months, in default of which the receiver would be appointed for the division.

and loans is provided, the receiver is appointed, and the liquidation is supervised proportionately among the association's interests.

The bill stipulates specifically that "no receiver shall be appointed who has not been appointed by the court."

STATE BOARD LOSES

Optometrists Get Injunction In Advertising Case.

The state board of optometry exceeded its power when it enacted rules seeking to restrict optometrists who advertise and associate with corporations, the county court of appeals ruled yesterday in granting by Benjamin A. Burns of Columbus, an injunction against enforcement of the board's advertisement rules.

The common pleas court, "Newspaper advertising," the court declared, "in this modern age certainly is of marked convenience and advantage to the purchasing public. So long as it is truthful, it serves a useful purpose. To deny such service to the public would invite a serious question of the propriety of the board's action, if not of constitutional authority."

City Must Retire $1,200,000 Issue on Old Sewage Disposal Plant.

Facing the necessity of retiring $1,200,000 in bonds on the old sewage disposal plant, issued 30 years ago, trustees of the city sinking fund yesterday afternoon decided to offer for sale $1,959,000 of city bonds owned by the fund.

The trustees decided to open bids on the bonds on Feb. 10 and to give delivery of them Feb. 24. The commission must have the money to retire the sewage plant bonds by Mar. 1, Col. William H. Duffy, secretary of the commission, announced.

GETS MAXIMUM EARNING.

In compliance with law, the trustees are required to invest in bonds all surplus funds coming into their possession, and are authorized to sell the bonds owned by them to provide money to meet payments of bonds maturing.

By keeping these funds invested the city gets the benefit of a maximum earning therefrom.

A statement released following the trustees' meeting said:

RESERVE IS CITED.

"The Columbus sinking fund is in splendid condition and the credit of the city rated among the highest. The full requirements have been met, and as a consequence a reserve has been built up ample to take care of long-term obligations for years to come.

"This money is mainly in the form of securities which must be exchanged from time to time for ready cash with which to pay these obligations as they come due."

The bill would eliminate the present requirement that, in case of an unsound building loan association, the superintendent ask the attorney general to institute proceedings for its liquidation.

STEPS ARE OUTLINED.

It would substitute the present provision that if the association is "conducting its business in whole or in part contrary to law," or if it is being conducted for the benefit of the interests of the depositors, bond holders and creditors," the superintendent "may, with the written approval of the director of commerce, forthwith take possession of the business and property" of the association.

The bill proposes a machinery for the liquidating of building loan associations, for the removal of protests by the common law court, for the filing of a bill of particulars by the superintendent in reply to protests, and other methods for appraisal of assets of an association are set up.

FEEES ARE PROVIDED.

Specific stipulations are made for the regulation of the costs of liquidating and for publicity amounts being spent. Among the requirements proposed is one which the superintendent would be required to file an expense report every three months, in addition to the maintenance of a central liquidation office for the division of bonds and loans is provided, the costs to be assessed proportionately to the association taken "over" for liquidation.

Not until late yesterday was Hitler persuaded to accept the chancellorship under the limitations imposed by the president, nor was Von Hindenburg ready to hand the highest office to the Nazi chieftain.

Two men managed to bridge the chasm between the field marshal and the former corporal. Former Chancellor Franz von Papen prevailed upon Von Hindenburg to accept Hitler, and Goering won out over Joseph Goebbels, another Hitler lieutenant, in insisting that the Nazi leader must no longer decline to put his shoulder to the wheel.

The president's limitation consisted in associating with the new chancellor men having his personal confidence, such as Lt. Col von Papen, Baron Konstantin von Neurath, Gen. Werner von Blomberg and Count Lutz Schwerin von Krosigk.

Also the president provided a check by putting in the new administration men of different political persuasions from Hitler, such as Dr. Hugenberg and Seldte. At the same time, he acceded to Hitler's taking into the cabinet two of his trusted lieutenants, Goering and Frick.

Moreover, Hitler, in the presence of President von Hindenburg, vowed with a handshake to Von Papen and Seldte that he would not endeavor to rid himself of the non-Nazi members of the cabinet, nor would he try to oust tried and trusted government functionaries from office to make room for Nazis.

DINNER PROBE IS UP AT LAST

Legislator Finally Succeeds in Introducing Resolution in House.

Representative Ortho C. Barr (D.) of Lima was successful last night, on his third attempt, to introduce a resolution in the House of Representatives providing for a committee to investigate the dinner given last week by the Ohio Association of Personal Finance Companies at which 100 members of the Legislature were guests.

Barr, in his resolution, points out that the association entertained at a time when two bills proposing reduction in the interest rates on chattel loans were pending before the House committee on banks and banking.

The association is opposed to these bills. He is author of one of the measures and Representative Forest W. Hall (R.) of Senecaville is author of the other.

The resolution in all probability will be taken up by the House in its afternoon session today. Last week Democratic leaders blocked its introduction.

Camouflage Used by Safe Burglars

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Jan. 30.—(AP)—Camouflage was employed by burglars who looted a grocery company's window safe of $350 and some checks last week-end. They turned the strong box around so the back would be visible from the street, pasted eight dummy hinges, two false knobs and a likeness of a dial on the back and set to work.

The bill stipulates specifically that "no receiver shall be appointed by any court, nor shall any default assignment for the benefit of creditors be filed in any court for any domestic building and loan association."

RELIEF BILL INTRODUCED

An alternative provision for liquidation" is made in the bill "self-liquidation" to be conducted under supervision of the independent of building and loan would have the power to make reports at intervals.

If these reports should be found to be not satisfactory, the bill proposes that the superintendent be enabled to take over the administration for liquidation himself.

Another administration bill proposing creation of a state relief fund, to be administered by a state relief commission, and composed of any funds made available, was introduced by Representative John J. Lehmann (D.) of Fremont. This bill, also an emergency measure, was rushed to the committee under suspension of House rules.

Besides these two emergency bills introduced in the House, 15 others were introduced in the Senate, bringing the total of bills introduced in both branches to 384.

$3 AUTO TAGS ASKED.

Among the bills introduced last night in the Senate were several which propose the following:

To eliminate nomination of judges in the primaries and to provide for nomination by petition. Introduced by Senator John F. Smolka (D.) of Cleveland.

To establish a state athletic commission to regulate boxing and wrestling. Introduced by Senator Joseph N. Ackerman (R.) of Cleveland.

To provide a $3 flat auto license tag fee plus a 1 per cent tax on the valuation of the vehicle. Introduced by Senator Philip (R.) of Mansfield.

SCHOOL REPEALER UP.

To repeal the 2.65-mill school levy and the $800 minimum wage requirement for teachers. Introduced by Senator D. J. (D.) of Van Wert.

The Ackerman bill would create a three-member athletic commission.
